Northwest Coast is a quarterly (May-August-November-February) magazine that will deliver engaging and entertaining articles and features on life in the greater Columbia-Pacific region.

Northwest Coast is directed at both active local residents as well as those who live beyond the coast range and either own second homes or regularly vacation here.

Ten thousand copies of the first issue have been printed and are being mailed direct to potential subscribers, distributed to area businesses, and featured at festivals and special events throughout the region. Beginning with the fall issue, Kable Media Services, an international magazine distributor, will place Northwest Coast on newsstands throughout western Washington and Oregon.
